What Will Be Your LifeMark?

Once again LifeMark Ministries has received a certificate of membership by the Evangelical Council for Financial Accountability, (ECFA), in 2026. The certificate recognizes LifeMark complies with high, biblically based standards of financial accountability. Including integrity and transparency in fundraising and donor communications, as well as responsible board governance. Our supporters can have confidence in LifeMark Ministries stewardship.

A Study Review

The study of Mark is written in a way that is easily understood. I like that the events are in chronological order which is easy to follow. I especially like the parables and their underlying messages as well as the mention of the women in Jesus' life. Although I knew most of the stories Mark shared, it was interesting to learn more details and the timing of them. Great study!

This month's devotionals will shake up your priorities and inspire action. Mark challenges us to examine what we're really pursuing in life, prepare for what truly matters, find our voice in a confused culture, and actively make disciples instead of just attending church. These aren't comfortable messages—they're essential ones. Don't miss this powerful series that will help you grow deeper and reach further in your walk with Christ.
